DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 112

1. The following is a quotation of the second paragraph of 35 U.S.C. 112:

The specification shall conclude with one or more claims particularly pointing out and distinctly claiming the subject matter which the applicant regards as his invention.

2. Claim 4 is rejected under 35 U.S.C. 112, second paragraph, as being indefinite for failing to particularly point out and distinctly claim the subject matter which applicant regards as the invention.

Claim 4 recites the limitation "the interval distance" in line 4. There is insufficient antecedent basis for this limitation in the claim. For purpose of examination, Examiner assumes that the interval distance is the second intervals.

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 102

3. The following is a quotation of the appropriate paragraphs of 35 U.S.C. 102 that form the basis for the rejections under this section made in this Office action:

A person shall be entitled to a patent unless –

(b) the invention was patented or described in a printed publication in this or a foreign country or in public use or on sale in this country, more than one year prior to the date of application for patent in the United States.

4. Claims 1-5 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 102(b) as being anticipated by Loewen (5,116,237).

In regard to claim 1, Loewen discloses a contact assembly with non-coplanarity arrangement comprising: a plurality of contacts, stamped integrally in a piece of sheet metal 10, each contact forming a solder portion 50, a connected portion (see attached drawing) and a conductive portion 34, the solder portions 50 aligned side by side, the connected portions each being extended upward from a free end of the solder portion

Art Unit: 2833

50, the conductive portions 34 being aligned an arc shape and defining a connecting end in one end thereof for joining integrated with the connected portion; and a contact belt (see attached drawing), joined the solder portions 50 of the plurality of contacts as a whole.

In regard to claim 2, Loewen discloses that the conductive portion 34 of the contact forms a locking end 24, 28 in the other end thereof, when the contact is assembled in a device 92, a firmly interlocking therebetween is achieved through an interconnection between the locking end and a body of the device 92. In regard to the recitation "flight pen", it has been held that a recitation with respect to the manner in which a claimed apparatus is intended to be employed does not differentiate the claimed apparatus from a prior art apparatus satisfying the claimed structural limitations. Ex parte Masham, 2 USPQ2d 1647 (1987).

In regard to claim 3, Loewen discloses that the conductive portion 34 of the contact is inclined downward along a direction from the connecting end to the other end thereof (see fig. 3).

In regard to claim 4, Loewen discloses that the contacts closed each other define a first and a second interval, between the solder portions and the conductive portion respectively, and the first interval (adjacent 20) is smaller than the second interval (see fig. 1).

In regard to claim 5, the method of forming the device is not germane to the issue of patentability of the device itself. Therefore, this limitation has not been given patentable weight.
